JOSEPH O'CONNOR

Review: Panorama Taken While Rolling Down a Hill

I was looking at him & he was rapt in the sun

leap-frogging over the California valley. A heartless game of king-of-the-hill: I bury desire with sneaker trampling;
fertilize the green-gold patches.

Hook him
from the armpits. Make him beg for his uncle.

Headlock & drop
to my knees like two blades
of a crashing anchor:—

Throw ourselves overboard or to the wind or whichever he prefers.

We fall head-over-groin-over-baseball-cap.

Remember: dicks & balls are just things to punch or be punched in:—or doodle on his notebook when the teacher isn't looking.

Who was wrapped in who while we slow-tumbled like yesterday's dirty laundry? How will I re-explain the grass stains & purpled cheek?

The school-scape still orbiting my sunlit prayer:
When:—O when:—will he punch me again?
